

Family Learning English: Read and Write Together

Course overview

A 10-week course that explores how children are taught literacy in the Borough's primary schools. It will enable parents and carers to understand how their children are taught to begin to read and write, as well as how to help them at home. There will be practical and written activities which will involve your child for part of each session.

What will I study?

You will:

- learn about oral story-telling and the role of traditional tales in learning to read and write
- understand how to prepare your child for reading and how to support them before, during and after the reading process
- learn about how to support your children to develop early writing skills
- understand a variety of spelling strategies including phonics
- explore a variety of text types e.g. information texts
- have an opportunity to refresh your own grammar and punctuation skills
- understand the literacy terminology used in primary schools today

Assessment method

There will be practical and written activities which will involve your child for part of each session. There will be no home study but some reading and writing with your child at home will be required.

Entry requirements

This course is for parents and carers of the Borough's Key Stage One children (years 1 and 2).

What should I bring with me?

You will need to bring a pen, paper and a folder for each session.
