

Family Learning English: Keeping up with the Children

Course overview

This five-week course will help you understand what happens in your child's daily literacy lessons at school. You will have the opportunity to practise a variety of techniques and strategies that your child's school is using and improve your understanding of how to support your child with their literacy homework

What will I study?

You will:

- explore the literacy program taught in primary schools
- discover activities used by the schools which you can use to support your children
- review a variety of literacy strategies including phonics, spelling, text development, punctuation, and grammar
- build a portfolio of primary literacy strategies and techniques for future use
- refresh your own literacy skills and improve your confidence to support your children with their English homework

Assessment method

You will complete practical and written activities in class to enable you to assess your progress. Reading and writing with your child at home to apply what you have learnt in class is essential.

Entry requirements

This course is for parents and carers of primary aged children.

What should I bring with me?

For this course to be valuable to you, you will need to bring a pen, paper and a folder to each lesson.
